

Draw Hands not Claws – Feet not Paws

Instructor: Hal Stewart, Saturday, Oct. 16, 2010, 10 AM – Noon

Cost: $25 AAG Members; $35 Non-Members

Though known primarily for his bronze sculptures, Valley artist Hal Stewart has been teaching classes on drawing the human hand and feet for many years.

His simplistic approach to anatomy is easy to follow and to apply to all your drawings of the human hand and foot.

For many years, one day per week, Hal volunteered as an art teacher at the Eagle Point Juvenile Correctional Facility in Buckeye, Arizona – his way of giving back to the community. For this volunteerism, Hal and three others were honored as the “2004 Teacher Team Arts Education Award” winner by the Arizona Alliance of Arts Education.

Supplies: Drawing pad no smaller than 16” x 20”, charcoal pencils, conte crayons, kneaded eraser.
